AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research.

Nationwide, AAUW is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization comprised of 1,000 local branches and almost 800 college and university partners. Learn more about the national AAUW at www.aauw.org.

- Join a powerful network*—with people who value education and equity, and believe in taking action.
- Effect community change*—through Branch committees and the AAUW Used Book Sale.
- Receive timely and valuable information*—accessing three AAUW websites, branch and state newsletters, and Outlook, the national AAUW magazine.
- Have a voice in government*—AAUW’s 170,000 members and supporters are pivotal on critical women’s and civil rights issues, including lobbying, briefing policy makers, and spearheading coalitions.

Membership in AAUW includes affiliation with the AAUW State College Branch, AAUW-PA and AAUW National.

We invite you to join the AAUW State College Branch. We have a long history of community leadership, including:

- Awarding scholarships to Centre County women who have begun or resumed college as adult learners.
- Awarding grants to programs sponsored by local non-profit organizations, community and school libraries.
- Sponsoring science and math programs for middle school girls and youth and science camp scholarships for girls.
- Delivering mission-based programs on topics relevant to women.
